THE WORLD,

WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 3.

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION (Including Postage),

PER MONTH, 30c.; PER YEAR, $3.50.

VOL. 29.....NO. 9,906

Circulation Books Always Open.

"WORLD" GROWTH STRIKINGLY SHOWN.

The Average Number of "WORLDS Frinted Daily and also the Average Number of Advertisements Published Daily during the First Six Months of the Years 1884 and 1888 were as follows:

532.

size of the loaf decrease.

Average Daily Circulation. 56,749.

BREAD AND SUGAR The price of bread must increase or the

Why?

Because wheat or flour is scarce? No. There is abundance of both. Bread is to be made dear because the laws permit gambling in the necessities of life, and one veteran gambler has successfully manipulated the market to force up the price of wheat.

The price of sugar is way up, and it is to

Why?

Because sugar is scarce or the labor to make it is wanting? No. There is plenty of sugar, and labor is to be thrown out of employment to help make it dear.

Produce Exchange gambling, that makes bread dear, and the Trusts that arbitrarily force up the price of sugar and other articles, can both be forbidden or prevented by law. The voters should keep in power the party that is pledged to do it.

THE OUEER LAWS.

JACOB SHARP was granted a new trial because too much proof of his guilt was adduced on his trial.

Boodler Alderman McQuadz gets a new trial, and is to be released from Sing Sing in time to help his friends in the election, because the big-wigs of the Court of Appeals want to show that they know more law than the little wigs of the General Term.

Between mud-headed legislators, flawhunting lawyers and hair-splitting judgeswith plenty of money thrown in to "fix" juries and prevent testimony-Justice has a hard time of it and rascals flourish.

Nothing has done so much to bring the law into contempt in this country as the men whose business it is to practise and expound it.

HANDS OFF.

Gov. HILL told his friends in this city that of this city in any way.

why is it not equally good for a President in | regard. regard to State politics?

President CLEVELAND would only burn his own fingers, without helping anybody else, in writing the letter asked of him. Gov. HILL is all right without his aid.

"ABOVE ALL A NEWSPAPER."

Last week THE EVENING WORLD published a full account of the enormous FOSTER forgeries hours in advance of any contemporary. It supplemented these with an exclusive interview with Mr. BLAINE.

Yesterday the news of a new trial for McQuade appeared first in these columns. The latest and fullest information about the Whitechapel horrors was also given.

These are but samples of the rapidly accumulating proof of the statement that THE EVENING WORLD is "above all a news.

The thousand contributors to THE EVENING WORLD's fund for the purchase of testimonial bats for the Giants, had the satisfaction of knowing that some of the sticks were used in knocking out a victory from the Detroits yesterday. If the game is not won from the Chicagos to-day it will not be the fault of the new bats. They are "daisies," and the coming champions appreciate them,

The irate Mr. Bucklin was injudicious in his raid on the club-window "mashers" on Fifth avenue. But the conduct of so-called gentlemen in some of these fashionable ogling resorts is enough to make a man ashamed of his sex and a woman blush for it.

This will be a 'cold day" for Anson's Babies. Likewise for the Giants. Ditto for

Mr. Monron's opinions of Trusts are represented by a 0.

L. P. Moslin

JERSEY CITY ALDERMEN.

President O'Neill has a war record of which he Alderman " Tony " Hanck runs a wood yard in his leisure minutes.

Alderman John A. Shawda is a sociable fellow and likes a quiet game. Alderman John Prigge, jr., is a good judge o Alderman Reardon is the stoutest of the twelve and one of the most agreeable. Alderman Marinas is the possessor of handsom whiskers and makes good speeches.

Alderman O'Rourke is a coming man of the Alderman Max Salinger is one of the leading German attorneys. He is an excellent talker. Alderman Walter Elliott has never been see without a high slik hat and a light overcoat. Alderman Donnelly is intent on beating Speaker Dickinson in the Assembly contest in his district

United States Treasurer, is the handsomest man

Alderman Jewkes, who is a carpenter, knows a much about the framing of ordinances as he doe about the framing of houses.

WORLDLINGS.

The Justice of the Peace at Conville, Mo., is Samuel Glimore, who is forty years of age and only 2 feet 9 inches tall. He weighs only forty-six pounds. Mr. Gilmore is a successful farmer and a prominent man in the county. Editor H. C. Bunner, of Puck, who, besides the graceful verse be has written. Is the author of several successful novels, is twenty-seven years old. Fred Opper, one of the chief cartoonists of the paper, is twenty-nine, and has a salary of $10,000. There are 3,000 women telegraph operators is England earning anywhere from $300 to $1,000 a year. The telegraph being a branch of the civil line there is a feeling of fear lest they should raise their prices and follow the example of a competitive examination before employment is Walking is the favorite and almost the only racre ation of Cardinal Gibbons. He is an indefatigable pedestrian, and unless he is not sitting in the reception-room of his residence he may usually be found walking up and down the narrow brick pavement in the rear of his house.

Potter Palmer, the Chicago many-millionaire was a clerk in a country store at eighteen. When he reached Chicago at the outbreak of the war he had a capital of $6,000. This he invested in dry goods, and within a few years he was able to retire from business with a fortune of $2,000,000.

Three Men Throw It from the Track and off the track. The stone had been placed on the car away from the track, and the driver, our game."

They hurled bricks at him and one struck him in the head inflicting a severe scalp wound. Then they ran and one of them fled into the arms of Policeman Murphy of the Thirteenth Precinct. He described himself as James Pegnan.

At the Essex Market Court this morning he was held to await the result of Simpson's indows of the house, I wish to say that whether there was or was not anything in the case of Mr. Bucklin, there is plenty of room for complaint in this particular.

It is not pleasant for a woman to feel every time she approaches one of these club-houses that her dress, her walk and everything about her are to pass under the criticism of

of this city in any way.

If "hands off" is a good rule for a Governor in regard to municipal politics, fall far from a gentlemanly standard in this

I think the policemen who pay so much attention (occasionally) to mashers on the street corners would do well to devote a little

I have been stared at and I have had friends insulted in the same way. Rows of ogling eyes, levelled, perhaps, bachelor entertainment, or in which to escape from the effects of marriages which were fallures (not by the fault of their wives), it doesn't seem to me that these lords of their own creation buy the right to insult ladies who have to pass their quarters.

A FREQUENT SUFFERER.

Professor of Chemistry-Gentlemen, I hold in my hand a vial of soda. What chemical shall combine with it to produce a valuable article of Intallible Cure for a Cold.

'The moment you feel that you have taken cold, of which your nose or your thinoat will quickly inform you, get a bottle of Riken's Expectorant. As soon as you notice a dryness or irritation in the throat (it won't cure cold in the Head, though it will often help it), begin taking the Expectorant, and we guarantee that Eight on the Doess will effect a perfect cure, or that the contents of one bottle will cure any cold. Soid almost everywhere. bottle will cure ANY COLD. Sweet and Manufac-where. WM. B. RIEER & Sox, Druggists and Manufac-turing Chemists, 358 Sixth avenue.

THE POOR MAN'S LOAF

THE SYMPOSIUM STILL ON. Is Marriage a Fallure ? or is Bachelerhood

To the Editor of The Evening World-Made Dearer Than for Many Years by the Corner.

As most of my friends are married and I have had splendid opportunities to observe the effect that marriage has, and in nearly every case it has proved a decided success and of moral and financial benefit to the men; therefore, with sufficient income and good prospects for the future, I should like to make some affectionate girl, about twenty-two, with refinement, sensibility and education in household duties, supremely happy. I do not think I am exacting in saying that the above requirements are absolutely essential since they are as necessary with the wije. the above requirements are absolutely essential, since they are as necessary with the wife as brains, sobriety, integrity and unselfishness are with the husband; and as I have a record of twenty-seven years that will bear the closest scrutiny, I believe I can prove a satisfactory half.

As I firmly believe bachelorhood to be a very decided failure, from personal experience as well as observation, and quite a lonely life except to a fast set. I firmly believe I if except to a fast set. I firmly believe I n Success ?

ence as well as observation, and quite a lonely life except to a fast set, I firmly believe I shall gain by a desirable union.

There are many exceptions, which have been fully discussed, and a dread of failure has been one reason I have remained single.

As I am passionately fond of music and have never known a thorough musician or lover of music that had not a lovely and affectionate discossition, such an acquisition fectionate disposition, such an acquisition would be a great inducement to me, though not alsolutely essential.

This reads quite like an advertisement. Well, you may call it so. Six Ferr Two. situated on the east and west sides have already commenced to make their loaves of bread much smaller than heretofore. This step, they claim, has become necessary in the Editor of The Evening World: In my opinion an unbappy marriage is brought about by the lack of foresight with both, and utter elimination of regard for the future in the sweet throes of love. A man may have the ability to look ahead and at the same time love dearly, but many don't.

A Success with the Right One.

An impulsive marriage is accompanied by a very great risk, as impulse is generally fol-lowed by a reconsideration which leads to diflowed by a reconsideration which leads to difierent views, and, in this case consequential discontent. For this reason very young marriages are objectionable, simply because young people are apt to have the above weakness. But where a young fellow has no home, is making good wages, has good health and circumstances all around seem to justify, why I think he is better off married.

A young man should not strive to make his wife a girl who has always been used to having more than he can give her. It is his duty to elevate her—certainly not to bring her lower. Then again, there are some poor girls who look at marriage as a sign of luxury and extravagance, while some girls who have always had what they desired are willing to sacrifice luxury for the sake of the young sacrifice luxury for the sake of the young man. This also plays as a big factor in married life.

The great question is to meet the right one.
She cannot be sought, but when she does loom up the young man is making a great mistake in letting her go. Should he never meet her he is justified in staying single.

MAT.

M'QUADE NOT DOWN YET.

Legal Red Tape Detains Him Still at Sing Ex-Alderman Arthur J. McQuade will not doff the prison stripes to greet his New York friends to-day. The reason is found in the fact that the remittitur from the Court of Appeals, reversing the judgment of conviction which placed him in Sing Sing two years ago, has not been returned to the County Clerk of this county. Until it is so filed and a motion is made making the judgment of the Appellate Court that of the Supreme Court, no motion to admit McQuade to bail can be entertained.

The remittitur is expected to-day or tomorrow, and as soon as it arrives Gen. Tracy, McQuade's counsel, will proceed promptly to secure the ex-Alderman's release.

Concerning the amount of bail which the Court will probably fix Gen. Tracy is of the Court will probably fix, Gen. Tracy is of the opinion that it should be nominal in the case of McQuade.

It has been the custom of the Court in these boodle cases to fix bail at $40,000. McQuade's counsel is of the opinion, he is reversed.

Neither District-Attorney Fellows, his assistant, McKenzie Semple, nor Recorder Smyth would comment on the decision until they had read the opinions of the

GRUMBLING ON THE BRIDGE.

Suplovees Don't Get Their Promised Reduction to Eight Hours' Work.

About six months ago the trainmen on the Brooklyn Bridge were informed that as soon as four-car trains were run the hours of labor as four-car trains were run the hours of labor would be reduced to eight, in conformity with the Eight-Hour law.

For some time these trains have been run-ding, but nothing in the way of reducing the hours of the men has been done. Conse-quently there is much grumbling among the employees, who have to work from thirteen to fouries hours per day. to fourteen hours per day.

An Evening World reporter talked with several of them on the subject to-day, and some of them gave vent to their feelings in strong auguage though one of them said: "It ain't safe for me to talk or grumble, for if I was caught may be my head would go of."

This apprehension is prevalent among all no men. What they will do about the matter remains to be considered.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Man-drake, Dock, Pipeissews, Juniper Berries and other well-known and valuable vegetable remedies, by a pe culiar combination, proportion and process, giving to Hood's Sausspariils curative power not possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best blood purifier. It cures Scrotula, Salt Rheum, Boils, Pimples, all Humors, Dyspepsis, Bil-iousness, Sick Hesdache, Indigestion, General Debility, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver complaint

Hood's Sarsaparilla s met peculiar and unparalleled success at home chite its popularity in Lowell, Mass., where it is made, that whole neighborhoods are taking it at the same time, and Lowell druggists sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla than of all other sarsaparillas or blood purifiers. It is sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5, Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 DOSES ONE DOLLAR

Also Some General Remarks About Pathe and Ranting—Alan Dale Admits Having No Veneration in His Constitution and Then Assails Some Antiquated Stage Practices-Somes Sharp Comparisons.

The possessive pronoun used before your name in this case signifies merely the most temporary possession. You are mine only while I indulge in the ineffable luxury of addressing to you a few suggestive, thoughtborn words. You will not, I trust, begrudge me this brief monopoly. Rest assured, Mr. Aldrich, that I recognize your value in the dramatic market, if not as thoroughly as you do yourself, at any rate with a mild degree of emphasis.

If I had been born with a bump of veneration. I should not dare to be addressing you, dear sir. On the contrary, I should be bow ing at the pedestal upon which you have raised yourself, blind to your faults, seeing only the virtues with which tradition "that enormous camera obscura magnifier" has invested you. But, alas! there is no veneration about my constitution. Such a statement is Jangerous, but I accept the conse quences. Let my blood be upon my own

I have spoken of tradition because many of the giddy young theatre-goers of to-day do not remember your performance in "The Danites" and "My Partner." Their papas and mammas have told them that you were great. If they have wondered how a really great actor could give such a curiously unsympathetic performance as that of Shoulders, which you are now making known in

The Kaffir Diamond," they are surely to be pardoned. I cannot help thinking, dear Mr. Aldrich, that you made a consummate mistake when you produced this play and starred yourself in it, because a great many people who see "The Kaffir Diamond" must who see "The Kaffir Diamond" must naturally wake up one fine morning and ask themselves why Louis Aldrich is considered themselves why Louis Aldrich is considered great.

It is the question that naturally arises. If I had a papa and mamma who had drilled me into adoring you I should go to them, after having seen "The Kaffir Diamond," and, flinging filial respect to the wind, exclaim: "My parents, you have deceived me. You have trifled with my obedient mind. You told me Louis Aldrich was great. I don't believe that he ever could have been. His Shoulders is dead against him!"

Were you ever really great. Mr. Aldrich? I know it is cruel to ask you such a question. I do not expect an answer, however. I can supply it myself. You made an enduring success as the Parson in "The Danites" years ago. It raised you into prominence. The part, however, was a strong and singularly happy one. Since your time McKee Rankin has assigned it to many actors, and in nearly every case they have made undeniable hits. The part lent itself to mediocrity; in fact, it was a great part. It made you, my dear sir.

Bartley Campbell saw the work for which in fact, it was a great part. It made you, my dear sir.

Bartley Campbell saw the work for which you were fitted, and he wrote "My Partner." Joe Saunders strongly resembled the parson. The play was written around the part. The part was built to inclose Louis Aldrich. You appeared in it. You made another success. You have become associated with "My Partner"and clung to it affectionately, as the dude clings to one suit of clothes, that by some freak of sartorial inspiration has made a hit. The clothes wear out. So does the play. Nothing but wine can gracefully and successfully smile at Time's devilry. The dude must go stark or get another suit. The actor must look for another play or sink into inactivity and appeal to the Fund. Ah! this is a cruel world. The cry is "move on" all the time, and if you don't go in the right direction you are kicked, no matter what your previous movements have been.

tin you are kicked, no matter what your previous movements have been.

And so you buried "My Partner" decently, and turned your attention to the living. You appeared in "In His Power," but it accomplished little. Then, with a noise of trumpets, which began exactly one year ago, you produced "The Kaffir Diamond," and asked this young and intensely critical generation to accept you in the part of Shoulders. If you had figured on the programme as John Smith or William Jones, we should have said: "He gave a fairly good performance. With a little judicious advice he may do well." But as Louis Aldrich, never!

In the first place, there is a pathos in the part which you fail to grasp entirely. Nothing but annovance at the peristence of this besotted old brute is felt by the audience. You ought to know, Mr. Aldrich, that a drunkard can very seldom interest a refined audience unless there be something singu-

It has been the custom of the Court in these boodle cases to fix bail at $40,000. Mc. Quade's counsel is of the opmion, as a majority of the jury on his first trial was in favor of acquittal and his conviction was secured only through error, that, considering the prospect of his eventual acquittal, such excessive bail ought not to be demanded.

The full text of the opinions in the Court of Appeals has not been received by either the District-Attorney or Gen. Tracy as yet, but it is learned that the decision of reversal was passed principally upon two grounds:

First, the admission of evidence of admissions, or acts of McQuade's alleged co-complished, such as testimony relative to the dight of Moloney, De Lacey, Dempsey and Sayles to Canada.

Also, upon the method adopted in selecting the jury. The particular objection of the defense was that after the jury-box was once filled and the jury had been accepted as satisfactory by the prosecution, the people could not renew their right of peremptory challenge. In this objection the defense is sustained.

This decision with reference to the order of challenging jurors is peculiar in that it is a practical reversal of the decision of the Gen.

defense was that after the jury-box was once filled and the jury had been accepted as satisfactory by the prosecution, the people could not renew their right of peremptory challenge. In this objection the defense is sustained.

This decision with reference to the order of challenging jurors is peculiar in that it is a practical reversal of the decision of the General Term of the Supreme Court in the case of Carpenter, the wife murderer.

In that case, Recorder Smyth refused to allow further challenges after the jury had been accepted, and his decision was reversed.

In the McQuade case he allowed every latitude in the matter of challenges, and again he is reversed.

Neither Titted Attention Editors

should have found such a horrible old father.

This feeling is absolutely contrary to what This feeling is absolutely contrary to what Schwartz, or wheever wrote the play (by the bye, nobody need quarrel about the authorship), intended. He did not mean that anybody should be repelled at the embrace of daughter and father. It was all your fault, Mr. Aldrich, it you will excuse my bluntness. There are possibilities about the part which you have failed to fathom.

This may sound like rank heresy to the

This may sound like rank heresy to the play-goers who still believe that there are no actors like those who rant, as you occasionally do Mr. Aldrich. But by the growing, highly intellectual generation ranting is no onger regarded with anything but a smile You cannot shout an audience into tears to-day. You cannot play all over the stage and command anything but polite endurance. The days of the "scene chewer" are num-bered. Lights and shades are in demand: the bered. Lights and shades are in demand; the delicate truches of the artist are called for. This is the age when Quality is allowed an innings; she has wated iong enough for it, poor thing. Forgive this frankness, Mr. Aldrich. Perhaps you wonder at the indifference of the young theatre-goers of fo-day, who had not the good fortune to see you when you first appeared in parts that most evideatly suited you. I have tried to speak for them. I am sure that had they seen you years ago, they could still sit through "The Kaffir Diamond" with the same pleasure that their parents feel and enjoy themselves for "Auld Lang Syne."

ALAN DALE.

From Dakota.

effects of indigestion and sick headache, and on trying your Da. C. McLane's Cellenated Liver Pills I found quick and estigatory relief. A very few doses does the work, and I would not be without them. Siouz Falls, Dakota, Cure sick hasdache, billousness, liver complaint, dyspepsia, heartburn, indigestion, maiaria, pimpies on face and body, impure blood, &c., by using regularly Dn. C. McLang's Celerrated Liver Pills, prepared only by Fleming Bros., Pitteburg, Pa. Price, 25 cents. Sold by all druggists. Insist upon having the genuine Dn. C. McLang's Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pitteburg, Fa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLang, spelled differently, but of the name promunication. Always make sure of the words "Fleming Bros., Pitteburg, Fa., "on the wrapper.

THIS FOR YOU, MR. ALDRICH. AN OPEN LETTER PILLED WITH KINDLY CRITICISM. WITH KINDLY R. H. MACY & CO.,

SIXTL AVENUE, 13TH TO 14TH STREET

BLANKETS! BLANKETS!

A large line from the lowest to the highest grade at prices that are unapproached.

10-4 Size, 76c., 99c., $1.99, $2.19, $2.63, $3.36, $3.79, $3.94. 11-4 Size, $2.78, $3.07, $3.36, $4.23, $4.82, $4.96.

Californias, Damask Border, $5.99 upward.

COMFORTABLES.

Full sizes and filled with best quality of carded cotton, $1.32. .46, $1.61, $1.91, $2.04, $2.34.

Extra quality Eiderdown, $6.99, $7.88, $8.74, $9.63.

CLOAKS, JACKETS AND JERSEYS FOR LADIES, MISSES AND CHILDREN,

OUR OWN IMPORTATION.

embracing the latest novelties.

We are offering these at our popular prices, which means from 25 per cent. to 33 1-3 per cent. less than is usual for this class of goods.

Ladies' Beaver Jackets, plain and braided, $4.92 to $16.74. Ladies' Cloth Newmarkets, $6.74 to $39.99.

A splendid assortment of Children's Cloaks from $3.61 to complete line at fully one-third less than regular dealers are accustomed to charge.

HORSE BLANKETS.

99c., $1.49, $2.11, $2.22, $3.61, $3.91, $4.06, $4.32, $4.49, $5.04.

Selling goods at exorbitant prices five days in the week and pretending to sell bargains on one particular day is not and never has been our practice. We have six bargain days every week, as we always aim to give greater value than any other house. This is the foundation of

R. H. MACY & CO

ing man.

our well-known success, and we never lose sight of it.

WITH HIS OWN NIGHT-STICK. Policeman Hennessey Is Badly Injured by

Three Uptown Roughs. Policeman Frank Hennessey, of the West One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street police station, undertook to arrest a big, roughlooking man who was very much intoxicated and was insulting people on One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, near Sixth avenue, about 2 o'clock this morning.

The fellow submitted to arrest quietly, and the couple started for the station-house.

the couple started for the station-house. They had not gone a block, however, when two men suddenly pounced on the policeman from behind. Then, finding assistance at hand, the prisoner also turned in and helped to whip his captor.

Hennessey was knocked down and the three men kicked him. They also took his long night stick from him and pounded him with that. The officer fought with the courage of desperation, yelling for assistance at the same time, and his cries were eventually heard by two fellow policemen, who went running to his assistance.

Thereupon the three assailants made off.
The man that Hennessey arrested at first was too full to run fast, and he was recaptured.
He gave his name as John Kennedy, aged forty, and said he had no home. forty, and said he had no home.

Officer Hennessey sustained serious internal injuries and his nose was broken. He was sent in an ambulance to the Manhattan Hospital.

SENT OUT TO BEG.

The Two Hungry Children of a Penniless Thirteenth Street Mother.

Two miserable looking children, George aged nine, and Lizzie, aged six years, the offspring of Mrs. Sopt ie Schreckler, living on the top floor of 455 West Thirteenth street. were arrested on Sixth avenue this morning by I oliceman Frank Rogers, of the Nineteenth Precinct, who found them begging.

The children had neither shoes nor stocking, and were shivering with cold. They were taken to the Jefferson Market Police Court, where they said their father, Jacob, was dead, and that their mother took in Washing.
The mother was able to make money to pay last month's rent, but having paid that, she found herself without a cent. As they were without bread, the mother sent them out to beg. The children were turned over to the care of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children who will investigate the care.

Fred May Put Out of the Manhattan. Fred May, the man about town who was indicted or attempting to shoot Policeman McGowan and akipped his ball, has been expelled from the Man-natian Club.

The Discipline Committee took this action at its last meeting ostensibly for non-payment of ducs.

THE TYRANT'S KEIGN ENDING. acksonville Rejoices at the Prospect of Deliverance. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 3 .- Only one death, that of Col. J. J. Daniels, occurred in this city from yellow fever yesterday. Two of the three deaths in this city were reported by visiting physicians, and no cause was assigned. Later in the day it was found that the patients had died of other diseases. The encouragement which our people have been given by this announcement can not be overestimated. This straw of hope has been seized upon with the eagerness of the drown-

Not a death from yellow fever has been reported to-day up to this writing, and only twelve new cases. The deaths since July 1 number 265, and the number of persons who have been ill with the disease 2,835. Dr. Sollace Mitchell declares King-Hall,

THE WOBLD'S indomitable representative, out of all danger and able to answer for himself to-day. Mr. King-Hall will not attempt self to-day. Mr. King-Hall will not attempt any work for a few days, however, though he is already planning for a resumption of

he is already planning for a resumption of his duties.

W. A. Drake, Harry Miner's nurse, who was in a very bad way vesterday, is recovering under a new-old treatment to-day. Dr. Mitchell discovered that he had had a quarrel with his affianced, Miss Alton, also a New York nurse, and that this was so depressing him that his death would result. The sturdy physician told Miss Alton that unless she "made up" with Drake he would die from lack of motive for living, and she would be responsible. She was obdurate at first, but afterward stole up to Drake's bedside and stealthily kissed his fevered brow. Poor fellow, he opened his eyes, and—well, the result is that he is improved 300 per cent and as happy as a lark.

Among the many cures and preventives for as happy as a lark.

Among the many cures and preventives for yellow fever Dr. Nunez de Villavicensia, of New Orleans, brings forward the latest.

He would inoculate well persons with blood or fluid from the intestines of yellow-fever patients. He says that the microbes are vezetable, not animal, and vaccination under the skin, he says, practised by him at Panama, is almost a sure preventive of yellow fever.

Dr. Hutton is arranging for the transporta-tion of fifty worthy destrute people at Camp Perry to their homes in all parts of the coun-try at Governmental expense.

Those who were sick here are getting stronger day by day, business is gradually resuming, and there is much more hopeful-ness in the city than before in two months, but it will be still many months before the city has taken on its old aspect.

Dr. Hutton is arranging for the transp

Policeman Maloney Dies Suddenly, Policeman Owen Maloney, of the Mulberry street station, died suddenly at his residence, 250 Brooms street. Last night, for the first time, he repe

OUR LAUTOGRAPH COLLECTION.

A BOBTAIL CAR RAIDED.

Try to Rob the Driver. A jigger car of the Fourteenth street cros town line struck a stone at Fourteenth street and Avenue A late last night and was lifted the track by three men, who came up ostensibly to render assistance to the driver. Instead of helping him, however, they pulled the car away from the track, and the driver, suspecting that they meant to rob him, put the money box under his arm.

This enraged the men, and they were about to attack the driver, when another car, with two horses, driven by James Simpson, came along. Simpson seized a car-hook and ran to the other driver's assistance, and the robbers took to their heels.

When Simpson reached Avenue B and Twelfth street he was himself set upon by the men, and one of them said:

"We'll kill you for having interfered in our game."

Club-Houses Have Embarrassing Eyes.

Having been obliged to cross the street or my way home for some time in passing a certain house used by a so-called gentlemen's club, in order to escape the embarrassment of a running fire of glances from all the winroomsful of loungers who have nothing else

De Club-Houses Protect Lonfers?

to the club-house windows.

over lines of elevated patent-leather boots, are far from pleasant things to confront a woman as she passes along the streets on business errands, to make calls or on her omeward way. In buying or hiring a house for their selfish Goodaby (waking up)-Br-r-randy!

Intallible Cure for a Cold.

Bakers Raising the Price and Cutting Down the Weight.

What About the Law That a Loaf Shall Weigh Sixteen Ounces? The sudden flurry in wheat threatens to have the effect of sending the price of bread higher than it has been for many years. Flour has become $1.25 to $1.75 bigher per barrel, according to quality, and should the corner continue the prices may go up still This will necessarily result in the increase in price of the loaves of bread made by the bakers. Many of the smaller bakeries order to meet the rise in the price of flour. Bakers who buy a large amount of flour at a time have not as yet begun to meet the increase in prices. Many of these buy their flour in monthly instalments and have a large stock on hand at present. Thus they are not affected. A number of the large bakers have, however, bought at the increased price and are still selling at the old rates. All along the raise their prices and follow the example of the smaller shops. If they did so their customers would leave them. So for the present they will sell at the old prices, although they claim that as they stood previous to the raise in price they made but a small profit, and now they will be compelled to dispose of their breadstuffs at a low they will made but a small profit, and now they will be compelled to dispose of their breadstuffs at a loss in many instances.

The poor man will be about the only one who will have to suffer, and those having large families will soon find out that where two loaves of bread at nine cents a piece lasted a day three will now be required.

There is a law passed in 1866 which requires that a loaf of bread shall weigh at least sixteen ounces. This law is still on the statute books. A penalty of $10 for a violation and a seizure of the bread weighing lighter than the prescribed number of ounces is provided for. This law is openly dolated every day by many bakers, while others give more than the required weight.

An effort is already being made to have the bakers adopt a uniform price, and a meeting of the Master Bakers' Association has been called for Oct, 20, at which the question will be discussed and ways and means adopted to carry out the project. Should the flurry in wheat continue, according to the statements of many prominent bakers, the loaves will be reduced from one to one and a half ounces.

An Evenna World reporter talked with a number of boss bakers on the subject of an increase in their prices this morning. The first place be called was at the National Baking Company's place in Canal street.

Several hundred barrels of flour were being put into the cellar when he called. In answer to his query as to whether or not the company had raised its price, the manager said:

"No, we have not; that is, not yet. We have been working on flour bought before the corner was started, and then we had only a very small margin. The flour you see on the street we have just bought. I have not yet got the bill, and therefore cannot tell anything about the cost. I suppose it is about $1.50 per barrel more than we usually pay. But if the prices keep up we will either have to reduce the size of our loaves or raise the price. I think there should be some law to cover the 'cornerer' in this case."

In the same street several smaller bakers

In the same street several smaller bakers have already succumbed to the raise, and either increased their price or reduced the have already succumbed to the either increased their price or reduced the size of their loaves.

A. Chellborg & Son, at Third avenue and Twenty-third street, do an extensive business. They say that as yet they have not had any occasion to raise their prices. They can stand it for a while, but if it lasts they will be compelled to do something.

Along Second and First avenues the price has been increased one cent per loaf, while has been increased one reduced from has been increased one cent per loaf, while in others the weight has been reduced from one-half to one ounce. The American Baking Company control any stores in this city, and as yet the managers of their various stores say they have done nothing towards meeting the advance. The bakers along East Broadway, Essex street and Avenue A have reduced their street and Avenue A have reduced their weight somewhat.

C. C. Ellis has a bakery at 934 Third avenue. Mr. Ellis has not yet advanced his prices, but says that should the corner continue much longer he will be obliged to meet the advance. However, he will not do anything unless other bakers move first.

Harrington's bakery, at 901 Third avenue, will follow the other bakers. If they make no reduction in weight they will not.

J. Loster is the owner of some dozen bakeries on the principal avenues and streets. He will make a reduction in the size of his loaves, beginning Monday. He is doing it because he cannot help himself. His customers are mainly composed of hard-working tomers are mainly composed or hard-working A number of bakers were unwilling to talk on the subject, and many of those who said hey had not reduced the size of their loaves he reporter ascertained from other sources had done so.

Thus it will be seen that not only does the

Thus it will be seen that not only does the "corner" in wheataffect the speculators and gamblers, but also reverts on the workingman and those dependent on him.

Many of the bakers were indignant, and used very strong language when referring to the gamblers in the necessaries of life.

A Minneapolis despatch says that flour has advanced $2 per barrel within two months. Minneapolis is the greatest flour centre of the world. Charles A. Pillsbury, the head of one of the largest milling establishments the world. Charles A. Fillsbury, the head of one of the largest milling establishments there, is reported as saying that there is not enough good wheat in this country to supply the local demand. He expects that the prices will go up higher and looks upon the present advance as a little small.

The Corn-Millers' Association, of London, have also advanced the price of flour. This advance is due to the poor condition of English wheat and the increased value of the foreign article. Thus it will be seen that the advance in this country has also affected the markets on the other side. Central Inbor Union's Campaign. The Troy Convention Committee is actively at work organizing the Union men in the various Assembly Districts, and as soon as all the Legislative candidates are nominated by the reveral political parties they will be asked to place teemselves on record as to the amendment of the constracy laws. Candidates in favor of amending them will

The Metal Work rs' and Furniture Trades sections meet to-night at 145 Eights street. A. A. Cariton, another member of the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor, has resigned, to enter the political canvass.

The International Boatmen's Union has elected John J. Malloy as President; William Rose, Vice-President; James O'Gara, Secretary, and John Dowd, Treasurer.

e supported by organized labor, and those against will be opposed.

Gov. Hill's friends among the labor organizations are so numerous and they like him so much that they are going to get up a big demonstration and have him present. have nim present.

Col. J. F. Bates, Superintendent of the United States Free Delivery System of the Fost-Office Department, is in the city with three Inspectors inquiring into complaints of violations of the Eight-Hour law. A new schedule will be arranged, pluoing the postmen on a more equalized basis and bringing them within the eight-hour rule.